Menlo Park Fire Protection District Proposes to Replace Alameda De Las Pulgas Fire Station 4 with a New, Expanded Fire Station

The Menlo Park Fire Protection District is recommending to the County of San Mateo Planning Commission the replacement of the current 70-year old fire station at 3322 Alameda De Las Pulgas with a new facility to accommodate increased staffing and service needs for areas in both Menlo Park and Atherton.

This project would demolish the existing Fire Station 4 and single family residence, and merge the existing lot with an adjacent property on Valparaiso to make room for a new fire station. Operation of the fire station would continue throughout construction. The Firefighters will temporarily operate out of the District owned residential home on Valparaiso and an apparatus structure would be temporarily erected during the construction of the new fire station.

The new fire station would have:

- Contemporary architectural style
- Two-story firehouse with a public lobby, three offices, living quarters for on-duty firefighters and utility space
- Three apparatus bays all of which will accommodate the District's largest ladder truck
- Drive-through station for the fire apparatus, ample parking, including a van accessible space
- Conference room for trainings and meetings.
- Emergency back-up generator and a 1000-gallon above ground fuel storage tank.
